

Britney Nicole Williams

Britney Nicole Williams received her Bachelor of Arts in Theater and Speech Communication in Jackson Mississippi at Jackson State University. During her undergraduate career, she was groomed into a well-rounded dancer including genres such as lyrical, contemporary, hip-hop, West African, and majorette.

While being apart of the M.A.D.D.R.A.M.A. Performance Troupe and Dance Ensemble of JSU, she advanced in elite competitions and received awards with honorable recognition for her interesting technique.

In January 2017, she sought to establish her dance career in State College, PA and performed solo for several events at Penn State University including the The Fredrick Douglas 50th Birthday Celebration, Black Women Rock, and For Colored Girls.

With over sixteen years of competitive dance experience, she aspires to open her own dance classes for young adults to freely express themselves through challenging props, creativity, and confidence.
